“Oh My God, I Love That Song!”

Have you ever been listening to a song that you haven't heard in awhile and it took you back to a life experience - the song your mom used to sing to you in the car, a first boyfriend or girlfriend, your first kiss, the first time your heart was broken, a fun time with your friends, a vacation, your wedding day? You hear yourself saying, "Oh My God, I Love That Song!" These are the songs that you may have forgotten. Fortunately, they didn't go away. They are the very songs Bill Foley specializes in performing.

Through the year's, Bill Foley has heard hundreds of people say, "Oh My God, I Love That Song!" when he is playing. Usually, folks don't know that he can hear them. Sometimes it is a whispered, "Oh my God, I love that song" to the person next to them. Other times, it is an enthusiastic, "Oh my God, I love that song!" Or maybe, it is something in between.

Bill performs the best music of the 50s, 60s and 70s, including early rock and roll favorites, "One Hit Wonders," folk and all of the best from the singer/songwriters. Whether you are at a Bill Foley, Bill Foley Trio or Bill Foley Band show, you will know these songs; all led by the acoustic guitar up front. In fact, your 10 year old will think these are modern classics because so many have been redone by the likes of Sheryl Crow ("The First Cut is Deepest"), Pearl Jam ("The Last Kiss"), Uncle Cracker ("Drift Away"), Jordin Sparks ("To Love Somebody"), Michael Bolton ("Dock of the Bay"), Jimmy Buffet ("Brown Eyed Girl"), Madonna ("American Pie") and N'Sync ("Everything I Own.")

You will even hear these songs in current commercials selling such products as Jeep (Jonathan Edwards' "Sunshine Go Away"), Macy's ("Come On Let's Go" by Ritchie Valens), Clairol Nice and Easy (Buddy Holly's "Not Fade Away"), Hampton Inn (Beatles' "With a Little Help From My Friends"), Raisin Bran Crunch (John Denver's "Sunshine on My Shoulders"), Kohl's-Vera Wang (America's "A Horse With No Name.") These are the songs that live on!

Available for wedding/wedding receptions, corporate events, concerts, fairs, festivals, clubs and restaurants, each show is unique. There is never a set song list. Each performance is tailored to the audience and the audience reaction that day! If you need soft background music, a fun, interactive trivia show or an exciting rock and roll concert, Bill can meet your needs.
